Published by: The Chartered Institute of Logistics and Transport in the UK

Introduction Qualification Objectives

The CLIT International Diploma in Logistics and Transport is a freestanding qualification, designed to provide a sound foundation for a career within the transport and supply chain fields and should provide supervisors, first-line managers and potential middle managers with a complete set of management and operational skills.

The CLIT International Diploma follows on from and builds on the general knowledge gained both in the CLIT International Introductory Certificate and the Certificate courses and provides more in-depth information on the core business subjects and specialist areas relating to logistics and transport.

The modules offered as part of this qualification can also be offered as standalone units, giving both students and employers maximum flexibility. This route may specifically appeal to employers who wish to target a very specific topic area (e.g. Sourcing and Procurement, Warehousing) for development as in-house courses, but with the option for employees to move forward at a later date to 'top up' to complete the Diploma course. Note that any certification awarded on a modular basis will clearly state that the award only relates to the specific module and not to the whole qualification.

To achieve the CLIT International Diploma, all candidates must study and pass the one mandatory unit, one or two electives from a choice of 3 and one or two optional units from 13 making a total of a minimum of 4 units to be studied to achieve the Diploma qualification.

The table below sets out the current structure of the CLIT International Diploma qualification and the prerequisite module structure. Remember that the format should be 1+1+2 or 1+2+1 to make up the 4 units.
